

Religious Studies 12: Social Justice 2008-09 Approved Agencies

The best way to learn about Social Justice is to spend time with people who encounter issues of social justice every day. Because of this, RS 12: Social Justice requires that a student spend at least 15 hours in service at an agency in the community as part of her study.

Tips for choosing an agency—ask yourself:

- In what issue of social justice am I most interested? Poverty? Hunger? Education? Health Care?
- What do I want to do for a career? Which agency work might relate to that?
- Which agency is easy for me to reach?
- Which agency is open and serving clients at the times I am available?
